

Artist Bio

Sanai Williams is a Woodbridge based artist born in Staten Island, New York. Since she was a child, she has been engaged in the art of creation. Whether it was designing, sewing, painting, baking, or crocheting, Sanai always has used art as a means of deconstructing barriers via combination. Her typical style is a mixture of street and spiritual art with the implementation of graffiti style and psychedelic warping. At Christopher Newport University she majored in Graphic Design and Psychology. She is a published illustrator for children's books, and is active in many exhibitions in the 757 area. After graduation, Sanai Williams will be a full-time residential coach at the Barry Robinson Center, and will obtain her Masters in Art Therapy and Counseling at the Eastern Virginia Medical School.
